Nine Coeds Campaign; Polls Open Thursday

Extended campaign plans are being made this week by the nine finalists in Associated Women students' elections scheduled Thursday and Friday.

Finalists for AWS president are Doris Bacon, Washington, D., and Pat Nowell, Mendham, N. J.

Finalists for vice president are Arlene Johnson, Long Beach, Calif., and Jean Sabin, North Owydoot, Calif.

Three girls remained for the rest of AWS secretary. They are Arlene Cook, Las Vegas, Nev.; Colleen Norseth, Los Angeles; and Lynn Randall, Whitier, Calif.

Treasurer candidates are Terry Wagstaff, Boise, Idaho, and Barbara Wing, Raymond, Alta., Canada.

Campaigning will shift from group campaigns to personal impingals as each girl will plan her own strategy in the contest. When contacted by the University for their campaign plans, the candidates announced their tentative platforms.

Presidential Candidates

Doris Bacon: "I would like to take all the girls at BYU feel that the AWS is their tool for acquiring their goals and desires. I elected, I would like to feel that I am a representative of all the women students. I have faith in AWS as a big and important organization."

Applications for Banyan Positions Now Available

Positions for editor, business manager, art and layout director and photographic editor on next year's Banyan are still open, according to Dr. Oliver Smith, chairman of Student Publications committee.

Students applying for editorial, art, and photo positions are requested to submit examples of their work, including a "dummy" layout of next year's Banyan, their choice of theme, and their organization of the book.

Pat Nowell: "First, I would help women students feel more a part of the school. Second, I would help make AWS more important on campus and work closer with the student body of class Third, I would like to have AWS work closer with Associated Men Students and new men and women students closer together."

Veep Finalists

Marlene Johnson: "I would like to have many activities planned for the girls and create closer friendship between them by having them meet more girls through AWS."

Jean Sabin: "I feel that frosh

Elder Romney Sets Devotional Speech

Elder Marlon G. Romney of the Council of the Twelve will be speaker at devotional today. He was born 56 years ago in Colonia, Juarez, Mexico, but was raised in Utah and Idaho after his family left Mexico during the Mexican Revolution.

A graduate of Hicks College in Idaho, he attended the University of Utah where he received his LL.B. Elder Romney was admitted to the bar in 1930 and since then has served in public capacity as well as in private practice.

Besides being active in his professional life he has served the church all of his life. He served a mission to Australia from 1920 to 1923. He was bishop of the Salt Lake City Stake from 1930 and president of the Bonneville Stake in 1938.

In April of 1941 he was called as assistant to the Council of the Twelve. Since 1941 he has been assistant managing director on the Welfare committee. During this time he has traveled widely.

Elder Romney was married in 1924 to Ida Jensen. He has two sons; his younger son, George, is also a sophomore at Brigham Young University.

Junior Prom Details Near Completion, Salesmen Continue Ticket Campaign, Committee Airs Formal Attire Stand

"Wearing of business suits, ticket sales, and dates are just some of the things which Junior Prom committee members are working to encourage.

Century to all applications, there is no known committee on campus encouraging men to rent, buy, beg, or borrow, or steal formal wear for the Prom on Friday and Saturday nights.

Arthur Hardy Accepts Business Managership

Arthur Hardy, junior from Sacramento, has been appointed as Universe business manager announced Oliver Smith, chairman of Student Publications Committee. Mr. Hardy assumes his duties April 1, and will serve until the end of spring quarter.

Elections Process Now Underway; Petitions Are Due

First steps in annual student-body elections begin this week with nomination petitions due Friday and the nominating assembly scheduled the same day. Primary elections are planned for April 30 with the final voting on April 15-16.

The nominations concern the five student body officers, three Associated Men Students officers and 12 class officers. Associated Women Students conducted elections earlier to permit the president-elect to attend a regional convention, April 8.

An Executive Council and Election Committee meeting to discuss plans for possibly limiting entertainment in campaigning for office will be reported in Thursday's Universe. Previous student body campaigns have been criticized for appearing as a "three-ring circus."

Nominating Petitions Nomination petitions are now available in the student coordinator's office, 110 Student Service Center. One hundred signatures are required.

Glass Menagerie Opens Wednesday

"Glass Menagerie," three-act play by Tennessee Williams, will be presented Wednesday through Saturday in the Joseph Smith auditorium. Performances begin at 8:15 p.m.

Tickets are available at the Smith Information booth and at Heindelmann's Music Co. Students are admitted on activity cards. All seats are reserved.

Dr. Harold I. Hansen is director of the play, which features Julie Groberg, Jean Johnson, Ted Hunter, and Bill Demos in the cast.

Mr. Demos doubles as set designer for the play, which will mark the first use of projected scenery in a major BYU production. They will be "simple, yet dramatic," stated Mr. Demos.

Outaway walls in wedge shapes, and original paintings will be utilized to suggest various moods, themes and locales during the course of the play.

School Honors LDS Women In Unit Naming

Sixteen prominent Latter-day Saint women will be honored when Brigham Young University names the new Family Life apartments on campus for them. Official ceremonies will be held near graduation time when many Church authorities and families of the honored women are expected to attend.

The women to be honored, three of whom are still living, are:

Wives and Mothers Lucy Mack Smith (1776-1853), mother of the Prophet Joseph Smith; Eliza R. Snow (1804-1887), Relief Society organizer, executive, writer, speaker and first woman school teacher in the Church; Mary Fielding Smith (1801-1852), wife of Hyrum Smith, mother of Joseph F. Smith, sixth president of the Church, and exemplary mother. Emmeline B. Wells, (1825-1921), great women's leader, poetess, and president of Relief Society 1910-1921; Aurelia Spencer Rogers (1834-1922), founder of the Primary Association; Dr. Romana Bunnett Pratt Penrose (1839-1932), first Mormon woman to receive a medical degree.

More Mothers Anna T. Mauser (1830-1896), wife of Dr. Karl G. Mauser, first principal of Brigham Young Academy; Dr. Ellis Reynolds Ship (1847-1939), eminent physician, poetess, leader of women, exemplar mother; Louie Bouton Felt (1850-1929), president of the Primary Association 45 years; Ruth May Fox (1853).

Student body members on Prom committees have been warned by their chairman that they are not to advocate the wearing of formal by males.

Hard to Rent

Those in charge of this event realize that it is very difficult for many men to rent formal wear because of the expenses.

Deer Jacobs, publicity chairman, stated that if any student or faculty member has tried to force students to secure formal for this occasion, they are definitely out of place.

Students who wish to wear business suits will be as much in place as those who will be wearing formal attire.

Many students still do not have dates for this "biggest event" in a college career. For those students who would like to obtain dates, Wednesday's matinee dance has been labeled "Get your date for the Prom" matinee dance. There will be a list at this dance of all girls who have purchased tickets but as yet have not obtained dates.

Tickets on Sale

Tickets are on sale in the Smith and Science lobbies and in the north end of the Bookstore. They are also being sold by 20 salesmen who will have signs pinned to their lapels. Purchasing price is $3.50 per couple. These tickets are cheaper this year than they have ever been in the history of proms at Brigham Young University.

Dorm hours have been extended one and one-half hours each night after the dance. These arrangements were made official by the change of campus housing.

Arrangements have also been made for the Church general Priesthood session to be broadcasted on Saturday night in the George Albert Smith Fieldhouse rather than in the BYU auditorium. It is expected that no conflict will cause an inconvenience to those attending either the Priesthood session or the Prom.

Norm and Corene have kept the telephone lines occupied, checking on details of the gala event, planned for Friday and Saturday evenings.

They've checked their wardrobes. Norm and his buddies will choose from tuxedos, dinner jackets, dark suits, or ROTC uniforms. Corene and other coeds will choose their best formal.

At the entrance to the George Albert Smith Fieldhouse, they will be greeted by uniformed attendants, who will take charge of parking their car, and return it when dancing is over.

After entering the Fieldhouse, transformed into an "Empyrean Isle," Corene and Norm will dance to the music of Tex Beneke and his orchestra, in the year's biggest social event.

PATTERNED IN PRETTINESS—Modeling favorite formal fabrics are Bernice Heyman, Salt Lake, in a pale blue embossed satin, Joyce Hawkes, Pillsbury, Minn., in a misty mauve net accented with lace trim, Gwen Poulsen, Salt Lake, in a lovely pink lace.

Formals are Foremost to Coeds As Prom-Time is Approaching

by Carolyn Wallis - Universe Society Editor

Spring is Prom time at the Brigham Young University and most Y coeds are in their annual dilemma of what to wear for this special occasion.

Since the male part of the couple has been asked to standardize his attire to a dark suit, tuxedo, or dinner jacket, the female also has been requested to conform to standards.

With the words of Apostles Spencer W. Kimball and Mark E. Petersen still ringing in our ears, we have word from the authorities as to the importance of dress of LDS women.

Moderate Designs

By this we assume "letter to the editor fiends" take pen in hand" that by modest dress, our authorities did not mean formals must be turtle-necked and long sleeved to be absolutely all right, but they must be of moderate design.

Modesty at the Y has become a prominent topic brought to the consciousness of nearly everyone. Some coeds become staunch advocates of it and others have become imbibed and think it is being overplayed.

However, the word of all the to-do is that we spread the philosophy everywhere we go, not just conforming to standards at the school dances and then wear inmodest dress to invitational, dinner-dances, or at distant school socials.

When students are in the stores, the strapless style, and there doesn't seem to be much you can do about it.

With literature such as "Fashion with a Flair" which was sent to every girl on campus, suggestions are given on how to combat such problems. Lace and velvet, satin or taffeta jackets can be one solution.

A dress with a boat, a square, or V'd neckline and capped or quarter-length sleeves can be accented with scallops or ruffles and sprinkled with rhinestones or any other type of jewels or flowers, and be made absolutely original.

Formals on Market

It is too bad, but it seems that the most sparkling, bouffant and elegant formals appear in the stores, the strapless style, and there doesn't seem to be much you can do about it.

SOCIAL BRIEFS

by Verla Crockett - Universe Society Writer

While students now have a chance to start anew, Songfest practice has begun for most of the units. Merrill Bradshaw has written the song for the TAU-SIGS. Practices will be held at 160 North University on the designated at meeting. A pling picnic tournament is now being carried on at the Tausig house. The annual dinner-dance will be held in the Starline Gardens at the Hotel Utah, on April 17. Dick Miller and Loyal Hastings are chairman of this event.

Outgoing BRICKER officers were honored at a breakfast Saturday morning at Harold's Club. Bud Smithson and Ellen Keeler were co-chairmen of the assembly. Monday night an exchange was held with the COUGAR-ETTES. Bob Briggs has been elected as "Mr. Formal."

Everyone is urged to attend an important meeting of the WASHINGTON CLUB to be held Wednesday in 207 Physical Science building. Wednesday, March 31 at 7:00 in 130 Joseph Smith building is the time and place of the KOREO CLUB's next meeting.

Costumes are to be worn at the ALYCEON-ATHESIAN exchange Wednesday, March 31, in the Joseph Smith banquet hall at 7 p.m.

Plans will be formulated for annual officer activities at the business meeting of the CANADIAN CLUB Wednesday, at 8 p.m. in 200 Joseph Smith building. All interested are invited to attend.

Monday night VAL NORNS made a trip to the Veterans Hospital in Salt Lake City with the Student Program Bureau to entertain the veterans. Carol Casper was in charge. A special meeting will be held tonight with the Val Norn alumns at 6:30 p.m. at the home of Carolyn and Gloria James.

The NAUTILUS constitution, revised and improved by Terry Wagstaff, Jeanette Boyack and Pat Novell, was approved in Tuesday's meeting. A prize will be given tonight for the best original song written for the unit.

"Belle of the Y" week was under the co-chairmanship of Jeanette Boyack, Jean Sablin and Lynn Schmitt, and Lou Ellison received honors as Y Belle second attendant. Barbara Hoyt was elected chairman of Y CAL-CARUS pledging, which will be held during women's week. Openhouse is April 21 and formal pledging will be April 24. Plans have also been made to hold the annual banquet for outgoing juniors and the pledge dinner for new members at the camp this summer.

A proposal was presented for the Y CAL-CARUS to sponsor a project for compiling a complete history of the Y bell and the "Belle of the Y" week for the student body record.

Plans were formulated for an exchange with the CAMI LOS and TEMPLARS which will be held Wednesday evening. Jim Richards is the new social chairman. Harold Clayson's condition is favorable but he is still in the Veterans Hospital convalescing after a serious operation recent.

All returned missionaries are invited to the DELTA PHI openhouse Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. in the 12th Ward recreation hall at 7th North and 9th East. Immediately following, LeGrand and Arshley will speak. Delta Phi installed officers for the coming year last week after a banquet. J. Wiley Sessions, Grand Tribune of the national fraternity, was the installing officer. Dr. Henry L. Iskenen, student coordinator, was also in attendance. Entertainment was by the chorus and quartet.

The first chapter of SIGMA NU OMIGA, now residing in Salt Lake City, had an exchange with the PHI KAPPA ALPHA fraternity of the University of Utah. The exchange was held Saturday, March 20, at the Roof Gardens, Hotel Utah. The Phi Kappas honored the girls with a get-acquainted party just previous to the dance.

Spring Quarter Rushing Begins

All students interested in joining a social unit this spring are required to register with the Student Coordinator's office between today and Thursday. Openhouse will be held by the various social units Thursday evening, from 7:00 p.m. Three women's social units will hold their openhouse in the Physical Science building, while four of the men's units will hold their openhouse in the North building. The rooms are scheduled as follows: Delta Phi, 205 P.S.; O. S. Trovata, 207 P.S.; Val Norn, 284 P.S.; Argonauts, 31 N; Val Hysik, 33; Saxons, 34; Templars, 35; Brigadiers, 56; and Tausig, 32.

Diamond Jubilee

by Mary Alice Saals - Universe Society Writer

Spring, the season of love, has been very effective at Brigham Young University, even though the weather has failed to cooperate. Studentbody president Quinn McKay even caught the fever that accompanies spring and presented a ring to Shirley Frame, who is attends school (of all places) at the the University of Utah. Other studentbody officers afflicted by this seemingly contagious malady are Vice President Gerry Asplund and Weston Edwards, business manager, who were married between quarters.

Also married during the short break before spring quarter were O. S. Trovata Carolyn Bagley and Howie Edwards. This season seems particularly effective on studentbody officers. Former president LeRoy Porter is now married to Yonda Christensen, while Olene Smith, studentbody vice president and a Val Norn from last year was married to Myron Walker, a former studentbody business manager, last Thursday. Another Val Norn, Jackie Hayward, is now Mrs. Jed Pritchett. Also taking matrimonial vows are Tom Painter and Shirley Ulmer.

Brickier Harold Dunford, who is home on leave from the service, planned Merlene Jones last Wednesday night and then presented her with a diamond on Thursday after the Bricker-O.S.T. assembly. Two Tausigs recently parted with their pins. Ralph Morgan gave his pin to Vicky Jones while Don Hoffman planned Shirley Hertle's California. Alyce Janice Ensign accepted Mel Gordin's Viking shield on March 2 and Wills Conrad, an O.S. Trovata, is wearing a pin from Ralph Harding.

Forensic Preliminaries Slated

Preliminaries for the annual Delta Phi extemporaneous speaking contest will be held April 13 in the Speech Center, according to Paul Nuttal and Stiel Mill, co-chairmen of the event.

The contest is sponsored by Delta Phi and administered by the forensic association. It is open to all members of the student body without reference to previous speaking experience or missionary service.

"Possible Contributions of Mormon Philosophy to Modern Times," is the topic for this year's contest. It is the same as last year. Contestants will draw a sub-topic and speak from five to seven minutes after 30 minutes preparation. Finals will be announced later.

Quinn McKay was last year's winner. His topic was "The Welfare Plan and Communism." Weston Edwards received second place speaking on, "Subsidized Agriculture." Geraldine Asplund and Duane Law tied for third. Their topics were "Workers' Incentive Program," and "World Peace."

First prize last year was B. H. Roberts' "Comprehensive History of the Church." The other awards included different church valedictorians, autographed by church authorities. Similar awards will be given this year.

Registration is April 12 in 5 Speech Center or in the Speech office. For any further information contact Dr. J. LaVar Batesman, assistant professor of speech.

English Instructor Attends Meeting Of National Group

Dale H. West, instructor in English, has returned to the Brigham Young University campus after spending five days at a spring conference on college composition and communication in St. Louis.

The annual conference, which began March 4, is an affiliate of the National Council of Teachers of English. It consists of a series of workshops, panel discussions and lectures, designed to instruct those who are interested in teaching composition and communication.

"The conference was primarily by concerned with freshman English problems," stated Mr. West. He brought back suggestions to other members of the BYU English department and presented them to his colleagues when he reported on the convention in Thursday's faculty meeting.

did Garcia really care about getting that message?

This is the Sad Story of a Senior who was Serious. About a Girl. In the straight-forward manner common to Seniors, he decided to invite her up for The Big Weekend.

A month ahead, he set up and wrote her a Nice Letter. Then he sat back and waited. For three weeks, with an answer. Finally, alarmed, he phoned her.

Cost him $4.25 in quarters. When the hanging of the Crisis Bar stopped, all he could hear at the other end of the wire was a Series of Sniffs. "Pigeon?" he asked, tentatively. She wept. "What's wrong?" he asked. She sobbed.

"Oh, Harold," she wailed, "You used to send telegrams to invite me to Big Weekends. This year, all I get is a little old Letter. You don't love me any more." And hung up.

Harold goes everywhere Stag now. Says he prefers it that way. But you should hear him sigh whenever he passes a Western Union office.

As your Telegrammer will tell you—the Telegrammer being a handy pocket-size guide to telegraph use that you can get for free by simply writing to Room 1727, Western Union, 60 Hudson St., New York City—a Telegram takes any message out of the usual class. It's subtle. It flatters the Gal or Guy who gets it. Not time you're sending an invitation, a Howl Home for Cash, birthday greetings to Mothers—just call Western Union, or head for your Western Union office.

SPORTSCOPE

by Larry Day

There's a certain quality about amateur sporting events, be it basketball, football, tennis, baseball or checkers, which drives sports writers and bookies to distraction. This quality is called chance (it has been expressed rather vehemently in other terms) and it makes its appearance wherever amateur sports are played.

The element of chance has been around a long time. No doubt there were some very discouraged bookmakers in the Phillistine ranks after the David and Goliath affair.

Chance in Tournaments

Chance rears its optimistic head most often in amateur tournaments where the stakes are high. It seems to be a policy that the higher a team is rated in the books, the higher is the possibility of its being dumped. The teams which just barely get into the tournament are the ones to look out for.

Take the NIT for example. Duquesne was expected to walk off with honors and not even be breathing hard. Up comes little Holy Cross and bang, some sportswriter gets another ulcer. Look at our own M-Men tournament. Nobody knew Grayson from Adam until the championship game, and then they walked in and took over.

Pros Are Easy

In professional sports or even horse racing, the outcomes are fairly foreseeable. You can pick the Yankees in the American League and the Dodgers in the National and then pick the Yankees for the World Series. You can pick Native Dancer or Ponder. You can pick the results in professional sports almost as surely as you can say that Joe Palooka will beat Gostafse Magee. I admit it is a bit tough picking winners in professional wrestling; unless, of course, you've read the script.

Footloose System

As I see it, however, prognosticating can be a very scientific, albeit game if you work it right. For example, if you were choosing a team to win a certain basketball tournament, first you would study the conference records for all the teams participating. Next you would study the regularity with which they win and their performances under pressure. Then you would study the individual players and their peculiarities. Finally check the tournament site for possible slumps. Compile and digest this data and set results in front of you. Then flip a coin.

Knockouts Galore ...

Two BYU Boxers Win AAU Laurels in Salt Lake Finals

SALT LAKE CITY—Knockouts galore highlighted the final rounds of the Intermountain Amateur Athletic Union boxing tournament at the Fairgrounds Coliseum here last Wednesday.

In the senior division alone, two knockouts and two technical knockouts occurred in the nine weight divisions.

Francis Beck in the 125-pound class and Darrell Josie in the 147 class were the two fighters from Brigham Young who won themselves a championship trophy. The featherweight Beck, decorated Dick Maxwell of the St. George Elks and Josie knocked out his welterweight opponent Gerald Finster in ten seconds of the second round.

Beck Aggressive

Beck's aggressiveness won him the duke over his Southern Utah opponent, as Francis tagged his opponent well in each of the three two-minute rounds.

The All-Church battle of the evening, Josie vs. Palmer was not the flimsy most ringsters thought it would be, as the boys got in there and put on a good fight, according to the fight fans who sat through the entire tournament—three nights of fist-clipping.

Cougars Kayeod

After Tim Patterson of BYU lost a questionable decision to Woody Turley of the Maple Valley, Ida, Boys Club, Lennard Holston of the Ogden High Cats floored Cougar Doc Pennesser in the first round of their 165-pound clash. In the heavyweight division, Fred Sessions of Salt Lake City opened a gash on the cheek of BYU's Jerry Lundberg and the fight was stopped in 47 seconds of the first round.

Cat Grapplers Gain NCAA Mat Experience

Although the Brigham Young grapplers returned from the NCAA wrestling championships trophyless, they did bring back a wealth of experience for future seasons.

Indicative of the keen NCAA competition is the fact that only one of the 11 Skyline Conference entrants got past the quarterfinals. Colorado A&M's Delbert Lockwood won a semi-final berth in the 147 pound division. He lost a close decision to Don Thompson of Oklahoma A&M.

The Argies of Oklahoma went on to win the tourney by a landslide.

Cougar entrants Milo Bauer, Jerry Rollins, Reid Knight, and John Robinson, along with Fred Drayner, Utah wrestling team captain, were eliminated in first round competition.

As it has been pointed out before, the wrestling game is fairly new at BYU and is gaining momentum. Experience is of prime importance in the squared circle and with this year's experience, the team should prove a formidable opponent for any conference team.

Cub Prospects Perform On Ball Diamond

Starting later than the varsity, but having just as much spirit, an eager group of Brigham Young Young freshmen baseballers turned out last week to prepare for the jump to varsity ball next year.

The freshman squad is hampered during the season because of a Skyline ruling which allows no games with other schools. Thus, the Kittens are not able to gain experience from actual playing conditions.

Kittens Prepare

Since the Kittens will not meet opposing schools, they will play the varsity once a week, and intersquad games among themselves to keep up interest, according to Coach Owen Dixon. The entire season consists of preparing the 20 top prospects for league competition with the varsity the following spring.

The competition for the top 20 is expected by Kitten Coach Dixon, to be top notch. Dixon will handle directing chores this season, along with head coach Dave Crowton.

On the Mound

Twelve the slabs will be prospective pitchers, Stanley Wright, Roy Boulder, and Ken Anquist. Behind the plate, hopefuls Ken Seaman and Brent Prater head the list.

In the infield, several battles for number one position will take place. Larry Vaughn and Lamar Kinard will stage a grab for first base, while across the way at third Mark Hoover, Phil Salter, and Frank Adams will be stirring up the dust.

Key Battle

The competition will also be rugged at the keystone spots. Gaylord Ensign heads the hopefuls at second, while Tom Steinkne, Ken Thompson, Stan Michelson, and Ken Jackson will be vying for the shortstop spot on the infield.

Dwayne Comish, Stephen Talbot, and Paul Kitchen will be leading the parade of outfielders when the outer gardeners are called on to perform.

Donar Batchelor, Don Davis, Gary LaComb, and others will also be expected to show their wares and skills on the diamond.

GETTING THINGS READY—Boyd Lake, men's intramural director issues equipment for the Intramural Openhouse which begins tonight at 7 p.m. in the George Albert Smith Fieldhouse.

Full Sports Roster Listed In Intramural Schedule

The second annual intramural open house will be full of action tonight in ten different sports categories. Most of the activity will center on the main floor of the George Albert Smith Fieldhouse, although participants will utilize other Fieldhouse facilities. Students and the public are invited to the 7 p.m. event.

The opening event will be the weightlifting championships. Two former Junior New England Champions are expected to compete. Don Stratton, a former middle-heavyweight champion, expects to total 100 pounds less than his record total of 715, while lifting as a light heavyweight. Bill White, a 125 pound champion, can still hit his best, which should be at least 530.

Hawaiian intramural volleyball champions of three years standing will engage the All-Church Champions of last year in a scintillating clash. Badminton doubles and singles will also be played in the North and West courts. Spectators may watch from the gallery.

Jerry Minson and Stan Collins will vie for the squash championship title within the four-wall confine.

Handball Champs

Nick Matellan, handball singles champion this year, will take on Bob Karpowicz, the 1983 title holder. Paddleball, the newest game to hit the hardwood at Brigham Young, will also be played on the handball court. The game is played with wood paddles and a tennis ball.

An intramural all-star quintet will take on the high-scoring Pen Lakers, who are the recently crowned 1984 intramural champions. The all-star camp is comprised mostly of M-Men tourney players. A free throw contest is to be open also for all students.

The Gymkana Club will display their wares in gymnastics with trampoline, parallel bars, horizontal bar, rope climbing, flying rings, and tumbling. Jerry Ostergard does a solo act in tumbling and contortion work.

Provo Roller Rink Offers Students Reduction in Rates

New, low rates for skating at the Riverside Roller Rink are now being offered to Brigham Young University students, according to Kent Lloyd, public relations director. Mr. Lloyd said that the reduction is a result of efforts to provide low-cost student recreation.

Student rates of 25 cents, which include clump skates have been agreed upon, stated Mr. Lloyd. In addition, the rink will be reserved for students each Friday for two hours beginning at 5:30 p.m. at special price of 30 cents.

Students and faculty will be required to show their activity cards in order to receive the special rates. They may skate one week night after 7:30 p.m.

The roller rink is located at 500 West 12 North.

Large groups may make special arrangements for even greater reductions. Reduced skate prices are also offered.

As part of public relations program to reduce cost of entertainment, arrangements are now being completed with the Seera theatre in Orem for special showings of "The Robe" and "Martin Luther" at reduced student rates, said Mr. Lloyd.

Placement Bureau Slates Interviews

Representatives of several companies will be on the Brigham Young University campus Thursday, April 1, to interview senior students interested in employment. Proctor and Gamble Company, Arthur Young and Company, and Crown Zellerbach Corporation are among the firms interested in accounting and sales positions. Interview appointments should be scheduled with the proper representative.

Those interested may obtain brochures from the placement bureau.

Seniors interested in positions with W. T. Grant Co. should meet in 250 Student Service Center today at 3:15 p.m.

Seniors desiring employment with Firestone Company may schedule interviews anytime to day with the Placement Bureau, 250 Student Service Center.

A. S. Cleveland, Firestone representative, will be at the placement bureau to interview interested persons. Brochures about Firestone are available in the bureau library.

Education Prof To Attend Conference In Arizona

Professor Grant Bushman, instructor in secondary education, will attend the Southwest Conference of Health, Physical Education and Recreation to be held at Tucson, Ariz., March 31 through April 3. The convention will discuss problems of current interest and trade ideas of solution and presentation of these problems. Bushman is currently serving as vice president of the Southwest Conference Physical Education group.

The convention includes representatives from California, Nevada, Utah, Arizona and New Mexico.

Talent of the Week . . .

Worsley Sisters Are Chosen For Excellent Musical Ability

by Kathy Redd - Universe Staff Writer

The Worsley sisters, perhaps the student program bureau's best known performers, receive today's Talent of the Week title. Linda, Joan, and Marilyn Worsley joined the program bureau three years ago and although they long ago lost track of the number of shows they have done, they have since their way to talent trophies, television and radio appearances, and special billing on variety shows.

Pasadena, Calif., is the hometown of the Worsley sisters, and it was at Pasadena church and civic functions that they began their tri-singing. Marilyn, the youngest, was only four when they started making appearances. "After the war, and we were still pretty young, we sang at the Hollywood USO and at veterans hospitals," relates Joan.

Mother Moves

When Linda was ready to start college, Mother Worsley, who is now private secretary to Dean Gerrit de Jong, moved her family to Provo. Soon the Worsley sisters were singing favorites in this area, too.

Two years ago, they won first place on a Horace Heit Youth Opportunity talent program. Homecoming trio competition was started that year also, and the Worsley sisters were awarded the second place trophy.

Linda, a senior music major, arranges their numbers and sings second soprano. She has gained recognition as a composer, writing music for a cappella choir, assemblies, "Keynote" of this year's variety show, and background music for the recent speech department presentation of "The Boy with a Cart."

Joan is a sophomore studying elementary education. She is a member of the Algonzo school unit and sings alto in the trio.

Marilyn is a freshman majoring in music. She had a leading role in "Keynote" and sings soprano in the trio.

Linda, Joan and Marilyn sing with the cappella choir and the a cappella ensemble. They presented an original number on the Christmas television program, spangled "concerto in Variety" with their rendition of "I May Be Wrong" and were featured last week on Variety Varsity.

Fellowship Grant Given to Provoan

Senior Robert Vannoy Davis, Provo, has been awarded the National Science Foundation Fellowship to do graduate work at Brigham Young University in Bacteriology. This is the first time a BYU student has won this award. The Fellowship is given on the basis of a nation-wide examination.

Only 23 awards are given each year in the United States. They amount to approximately $2400 a year. Mark Nelson, Spanish Fork, received honorable mention in the contest.

Dr. Thomas L. Martin, Dean of the College of Applied Science, announced that fellowships from other universities have been awarded to several BYU senior students in Agronomy. These students are Melton Christensen, Ogden, who has been offered a fellowship from the University of Illinois; Duwain Anderson, Portland, Ore.,

Branch Names Changed On Salt Lake Schools

The Salt Lake branches of Brigham Young University have been renamed.

LDS Business College of Brigham Young University and McCune School of Music and Art of Brigham Young University dropped the word "branch" from their title, according to President Ernest L. Wilkinson.

At Purdue University, Grant Thomas, Provo, and Vernon Gledhill, Van Nuys, Calif., at North Carolina State College; and at Richard Koeler, Provo, at Ohio State College, to do work in Animal Husbandry. These fellowships were awarded on the basis of scholarship and grades.

BELLE OF THE Y—Colleen Lawrence, center, was crowned "Belle of the Y" for 1954 Friday evening at the "Colonial Cottage." Chosen to reign with her were Carol Dunford, first, and Lou Elson, second attendant. Ray Beckham made presentation.

Wye Advisor Notes Spring Deadline

Deadline on manuscripts for the spring issue of the Wye will be April 9, announced Thomas E. Cheney, advisor to the Wye magazine.

There will be a special Wye mailbox located in the Joseph Smith Building lobby from Monday to Friday of next week, for all contributions.

This quarter, good humor, non-fiction articles, short stories, and poetry are especially needed. This magazine is going to have special features on sculpture, the arts, and dance at BYU. It will be the largest edition of the year, and will feature color illustrations for the first time.
